General information:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> FAWG shall accept the customer's order by way of a letter of acceptance or by signature of this form following a technical feasibility check. The minimum contract period of the respective specifications applies, provided no other commitment period was agreed. The contract is entered into for an indefinite period. The period of notice is defined in the respective specifications and takes effect on the last day of a calendar month. Notice of termination must be tendered in writing. Where the contract is terminated prior to expiration of the minimum contract period, this termination shall be effective, but the sum total of outstanding base fees shall continue to be payable until the earliest possible date of termination. There are no oral side agreements to this agreement. Any changes or additions to this agreement must be made in writing.
I confirm the accuracy and completeness of my data. The FWAG ICT GTCs found overleaf and the respectively relevant Fee Regulations (FR) and Specifications (SPECS) shall apply, all available at https://www.airport-city.at/ict_services . In particular, I confirm that I have read and understood subsection 1.27 of the ICT GTCs (Amendments to the Terms and Conditions, Specifications and Fee Regulations). FWAG shall be permitted to inform me via the contact channels indicated above (e-mail, SMS, telephone) about FWAG offers, products and additional services and for customer surveys for the purposes of market research and surveys assessing customer satisfaction (please delete as appropriate). If I no longer wish to receive this information in the future, I can unsubscribe in writing or by e-mail any time.
